7 November 2022 (9.00 AM – 4.00 PM CET)

Fray Luis de León, 11, 28012
Madrid (Spain)

Background

Green, digital, demographic transitions are one of the thematic priorities of the EU: the EPR Working Group on Digital Skills supports digital skills of various target groups and the teaching and learning online taskforce support teachers' skills, both in turn supporting the digital transformation of services. The policy recommendations from these activities contribute to less labour market and social exclusion and reduced inequalities and digital skills gaps, i.e. also smoothen digital transitions.

In 2021, EPR and its members dedicated a specific Taskforce to work on the topic of digital skills. The meetings were focused on presenting and discussing projects ideas from members. Participants also shared good practices and examples of assessment tools for digital skills.

For 2022 EPR and its members agreed to keep going to work on the digital skills field by creating a dedicated working group. 3 meetings were planned for this year with the aim to produce recommendations to service providers in development of programmes for digital skills of staff & students and recommendations to policy makers on support to PWDs digital skills; A dedicated Webinar "Digital Europe, programme, objectives and opportunities for funding" was organized to share the most relevant information of funding opportunities to support digital transition.
