

EPR Innovation Taskforce – Employment, inclusion and ICF

2 and 9 April 2020

Online meeting

Programme

Background and aims of the meeting

EPR has worked on ICF in depth in previous years, and many EPR members have implemented ICF-based tools in their organisations thanks to previous EPR activities and support.

Following a successful first exchange in March 2019 EPR organizes a second meeting among its members to discuss the International Classification of Functioning, Disability and Health (ICF).

During the event, EPR members will share experiences, challenges, possible developments in their use of ICF since the last meeting, the challenges and recommendations of its use in policy and disability assessment and explore possible project opportunities.

Please note: due to the spread of the Coronavirus, the meeting will be held online.

Guidelines for presentations

Those making presentations are encouraged to address the following issues:

- Overview on the use of ICF in your organisation and how it is implemented
- How staff are convinced about the added value of using ICF
- If and how ICF codes are linked to goal setting and how clients are involved in ICF-based personal planning?

- How long does it take to complete an ICF based assessment form; how can its use be time efficient?
- How can people with intellectual disabilities be supported to respond to assessment questions regarding topics that are conceptual, which they would have trouble understanding?
- How to gather information that is as objective as possible; deal with subjectivity of clients?
- How different disciplines cooperate to complete an ICF based assessment form?
- How to measure small developments?
- Which instrument you use in vocational rehabilitation and why?
- Have you used ICT tools to implement ICF? If so, how?
- Over the past year, what have been the biggest changes for your organization in the use of ICF?
